Sebastian (Matthew Fisher) / Whitesheets

This is a copy of the official “Line of Succession” document, available in The Royal Museum. (This is an in game, transferable item)

It may come to pass that the currently confirmed or acting ruler of Atlantica dies or is otherwise found unfit to rule. This can come about in a number of ways. They could be found mentally unstable, demonstrated to have usurped power from the rightful heir, be an illicit form of magical creature (such as a shapeshifter), or be proven to have committed treason. The supreme justice, judge of the highest court of the land may be summoned (find a GM or NPC) to verify any claim that the ruler is unfit. If any of these conditions can be proven to have come to pass, the monarch is then immediately removed.

To determine who is next in line of succession, follow the list below until you find the first eligible candidate. Assume all classifications that could have multiple members (more than one male child for example) process in order of age. Women who marry into another line of succession forfeit their position in line for the throne of their old kingdom. Bastards of proven lineage are eligible. For example, a bastard cousin is considered in the line of succession as appropriate.

From the last confirmed (not acting) ruler of Atlantica power passes to:

1. Male children
2. Female children
3. Husband or Wife
4. Brothers
5. Sisters
6. Brothers-in-law
7. Sisters-in-law
8. The Father
9. The Mother
10. Uncles on the Fathers side
11. Uncles on the Mothers side
12. Aunts on the Fathers side
13. Aunts on the Mothers side
14. Male cousins on the Fathers side
15. Male cousins on the Mothers side
16. Female cousins on the Fathers side
17. Female cousins on the Mothers side

If for some reason, no eligible candidate can be found, the Council of Advisors will elect a new monarch in a closed meeting as soon as possible. (out of the scope of the game)

If power passes to a new person, the acting monarch is considered only a steward until confirmed. If the discredited person manages to reestablish their eligibility before the acting monarch is confirmed they can re-assume power immediately. The process of actually confirming the monarch takes about a week and is the duty of the Council of Advisors.

In order to pass power to the acting monarch:

1. The supreme justice must preside over the ceremony
2. The eligibility of the candidate must be verified by at least 2 Atlanticans (using the chart above).
3. They need to take an oath to protect Atlantica in front of 3 witnesses (at least 1 must be Atlantican).

Following the completion of the ceremony, NPC pages will inform everyone in game of the change.

The Trident (567) rightfully belongs to the acting ruler of Atlantica. The acting monarch should not hesitate to use his or her extensive authority to acquire The Trident (567) if anyone is foolish enough to withhold it.

Welcome to the Neptune Ball! I am Sebastian, adviser to the King, and court Magician. I hope that this night proves fruitful, as our nations cry for the end of this war. Our host tonight is King Triton, mighty sovereign of Atlantica. My King, please stand, and give us a few words.

(wait)

I will now introduce the remainder of the guests. When I announce you, please stand and be recognized. First, Princess Adriana of Atlantica.

(wait)

Princess Claudia and Hermes, representatives of the Explorer's Guild.

(wait)

General Gladius, representative of the Guardian's Guild, and his wife, Iris

(wait)

Morvyn, representative of the Merchant's Guild, and his wife, Pearl.

(wait)

Queen Ariel, representative of Europa, and her son, Ash.

(wait)

Prince Jared of Pacifica, and his bodyguard, Valerie.

(wait)

And finally, Damien and Mirage, diplomats of Pacifica.

(wait)

Thank you for all attending. Regretfully, Kratos of the Guardian's Guild and Nautilus of the Merchant's Guild could not be present, but their voices will be heard through their chosen representatives. Please let the castle staff know if you have any needs, and feel free to explore our magnificent castle at your leisure. There will be a dance run by Princess Adriana held here at 3:50, followed by a banquet to be held at 4:00. All guests of the ball are expected to attend. Now, enjoy yourselves - and let this be a night to remember always!
